
Metrics, datasets and judges differ across studies; values are not directly comparable.